TRUSTEES OF F. F. MUST PAY BONDS OF DRAINAGE DISTRICT

Bondholders' Demands Are Sustained In Decision By Federal Court

HOLDS ORIGINAL LAW IS BASIC CONTRACT

Acts That Lowered Taxes Are Held Not To Be Constitutional

Attorneys for a bondholders' protective committee were fully sustained in a decision rendered yesterday by the federal court sitting at Pensacola in their contention that acts of the Florida legislature in the 1929 and 1931 sessions relating to Everglades drainage district bonds were void and were sustained in their legal rights for an assessment of drainage taxes on the basis of the law of 1929.

The opinion is more than forty pages in length and its full import cannot be known until it is read and studied, but the Associated Press dispatches from Pensacola probably set out the essential points, which are that the trustees of the Internal Improvement fund must bid in the bonds, and that the taxes are delinquent and the I. I. fund is held responsible for the payment of taxes for the redemption of the bonds.

The suit was brought by H. C. Torick of Toledo, Ohio, and associates, Torick's company having bought the bonds from the commissioners of Everglades drainage district.

The decision was written by Judge Louis W. Strum, formerly a judge of the Florida supreme court, Judge Bryan, another Florida man, agreed in part of the opinion and dissented in another part.

It does not appear that the opinion prevents the payment of taxes with bonds as bonds can be had at a low price, but if bonds are used they must be applied on the basis of the high rate of tax which has sustained and not on the basis of the lowered tax the legislature tried to provide for.

The Glades And Its Affairs

By Howard Shanks

Only a small part of the affairs of the Everglades have to do with the assessment of drainage taxes and the collection of taxes for interest on bonds and maintenance of the drainage structure. Weather is a large factor because it has to do with rainfall and droughts and the production is influenced by those things, and when the seed is in the ground the vegetation does not grow regardless of what the taxation is. The function of the drainage district being to dispose of surplus water, there still is left the question of moisture when there is no surplus of rainfall for the drainage structures to deal with. There is a very remote connection between drainage and frost. If there is any connection at all, and there is the matter of insect pests which is not a matter that the drainage board is authorized to deal with.

So when we talk about Glades affairs we are not limited to politics and drainage district administration, the connection between production is carried on as affairs of importance, and production this spring was disappointing. But there is a full understanding of why the production was cut short. Were the crops less due to the drought, or was the bean leaf hopper?

Early last season a veteran grower at Pahokee remarked: "The lake is low, and if rainfall is deficient it looks as if we will have to use pumps on our farms to get moisture." Having foreseen and being a forethought man, he saw it. It is that he got so much moisture all season as usual, but he lost one planting after another. The newspaper has reported from time to time the several installations of pumping plants to irrigate less needy. The observation is that although the moisture was provided, the "white dry" got the replanted beans. Insects ate

CARY A. HARDEE

PLEA FOR ECONOMY MADE BY HARDEE IN SPEECH AT PAHOKEE

As Candidate For Governor Addresses Large, Sympathetic Audience

Attacks Martin's Claims of Credit For Originating Good Road System

Cary A. Hardee of Live Oak, who was governor of Florida from 1921 to 1924, spoke Wednesday night at the Pahokee high school auditorium in a large hall in behalf of his candidacy for nomination as governor in the Democratic primary election to be held June 7. Governor Hardee had spoken at Fort Pierce Tuesday night and at Okeechobee Wednesday afternoon, and he arrived at Canal Point at 6 o'clock, accompanied by political workers who were in his campaign and by friends from Okeechobee and was met by supporters from West Palm Beach who came out to attend the meeting at Pahokee.

He referred to Everglades affairs made early in his address by Governor Hardee, who he said, had been in the territory in which to secure votes. "We think all candidates who put forth an extra effort last week, and enabled us to make 'Boaters Day' the success it was. They can be proud of their efforts and not in vain. An examination of the list will show that there are several names which are close to the leaders this week. Miss Dorothy Egan and Miss Mary Milliken came in strong for the Democrats for Brevard County, while Mrs. Al Baker and Mrs. J. C. Tabb are kicking up plenty of dirt right along the leaders. Mrs. Rev. J. R. Hoch and Mrs. Louis Baker, both of Belle Glade, and Mrs. J. Barstow of South Bay are contestants in this campaign, to be reckoned with. These ladies all had a rather late start, but it is certainly no great work on our part when we say that they will make themselves felt long before the campaign has entered its final stages, and there is no reason why their friends should not get behind them with a few long term subscriptions and boost their standings in next week's count.

The news is naturally proud of its fine list of workers, and we can look for real campaigning for the big prizes. Naturally the greater the effort forth, the more the top will mean. The race is in the end. The next two weeks will discover the real workers, there can be no doubt about this. Receipts in subscriptions to date are still below normal, considering the great value of the prizes offered. The new of the workers have failed to produce the number of subscriptions we were expecting, and our disappointment is young and our disappointment.

What could be done in the drainage district in the coming year? Governor Hardee was unable to promise, in all departments of government, that he would increase expenditures, while income has been shrinking because many taxpayers have been unable to pay taxes. National and national conditions are such as to make this a time for adjustment, but to the foundation of new progress.

Unless there was a reduction in the grades for roads we could not have any other form of excise tax in inevitable, and as he did not favor such a tax, he was not in favor of any other form of excise tax. When Governor Hardee made it clear he favored economies in government, he was not in direct reference to former Governor John W. Martin, his chief opponent, but Governor Hardee referred to him indirectly throughout his address, and commented that if drainage taxes are high on the basis of the existing bond issue, such taxes would be much higher if the Martin $20,000,000 Everglades bond deal had been put through.

But the speaker was not in a mood to be argument and the claims of Governor Martin, the speaker said he (Hardee) would not be in the House when the road department was created, and it was under "his administration" that the road department was created, and it was under "his administration" that the road department was created, and it was under "his administration" that the road department was created.

Mr. Hardee was not in the road department when it was created, and it was under "his administration" that the road department was created, and it was under "his administration" that the road department was created, and it was under "his administration" that the road department was created.

NEAR TIE BETWEEN MRS. JENSEN AND MRS. HICKERSON FOR FIRST PLACE IN THE NEWS' "WEEKLY PAY ROLL"

Miss York and Miss Milliken Close On Heels of Leaders.—Those Who Stick Will Be Winners; Quitters Never Win A Prize. Real Test of Character and Determination Yet To Come

After carefully checking the reports of each candidate we find that Mrs. Marie Jensen and Mrs. Fred Hickerson have, through unabated effort and tireless application of their spare time virtually reached horns for FIRST position. Now this really means something. It means more than the average person might imagine. Just look over the list of candidates. To forge to the front in a field of workers such as those competing in the News' "Weekly Payroll" subscription campaign, is no little job. It simply means that someone really has his game worked out. We yet warn the leaders who are flying the "Flag of Victory" that an advantage is some of the things that are to look out for a counter attack that may result in a change in the "Chief of Staff."

The race for the winner's choice of a new Chevrolet or Ford sedan, and other valuable awards that are now being given, is starting slowly. A number of those whose names appeared in the list of candidates are now at work, but there is a feeling that for more, at least in the matter of fact, the country has hardly been touched, and a dozen more names are sure to be unrepresented, would find ample territory in which to secure votes. We think all candidates who put forth an extra effort last week, and enabled us to make "Boaters Day" the success it was. They can be proud of their efforts and not in vain. BEANS SOLD AT $8 BUT TOOK SEVERAL METHODS TO MAKE

Car of 634 Hampers Rolled From Belle Glade To J. Hamburger Co.

GROWN BY KRUSE BROS. ON IRRIGATED LAND

Mole Drainage and Wind-Break Victory Over Bean Leaf Hopper

A car of beans loaded at Belle Glade Tuesday sold for 8¢ before rolling for $3,331.90, the highest price of any car of beans in the 1931-32 season. The hamper loaded 634 to a car still but 111 hampers were from the same growers, Albert and Frank Kruse, whose farm is about a mile and a half north of Belle Glade, the field is one that extends from the Belle Glade-Pahokee road to the tracks of the Florida East Coast railroad, westward.

Six dollars a hamper was the price of 502 of the 634 hampers, the remaining 132 taking a lower price. All but about 100 hampers were loaded at first picking.

The buyer was J. Hamburger & Company of New York and the sale was made by J. H. Livingston, broker, who lives at Belle Glade. All of the beans were of one variety, Bonafides.

High quality of the beans is indicated by the price, although they were from vines that went through the frost.

Production of a $2,500 car of beans in a time of insect infestation and drought was not accomplished by doing just one thing, it was by using at least four separate processes. The Kruse brothers land is mole-drained, the moles being about 30 inches under the surface; they used fertilizer generously, and the land was irrigated as frequently as water was available, three pumps being used, the effect of the moles being to distribute the irrigation water as could not have been done if there had not been mole drainage.

Prognosis against frost which would have scared the fruit was met by planting sunflowers between the rows. Bean leaf hoppers (white fly) were controlled by using a pyrethrum insect killer as a dust instead of as a spray.

Beans are being sold at an interest in a celery crop on Brown Farm.

NO ARGUMENT ABOUT STATE ROAD NO. 26

Route of state road No. 26 through South Bay and Okelanta down North River canal to Port Lauderdale and Miami is not being opposed by any interests in Belle Glade and has not been and will not be. The News is assured by officers of Everglades Chamber of Commerce at Belle Glade and by other citizens.

The report that an officer of the Chamber of Commerce tried to get an agreement to build the road to a route that would leave South Bay off of it is clearly a mistake, as no evidence can be found to support the charge.

On the contrary, the Everglades Chamber of Commerce is for the route that leads state road No. 26 directly through South Bay and Okelanta.

At a meeting held recently the Everglades Chamber of Commerce commended its road committee for a suggestion that the road will lay state road No. 4 at Port Lauderdale and join state road No. 26 at South Bay.

There is no route that can get as much mileage with as little cost as a road that is a small cost as the one that extends the road down from Okelanta on the bank of the canal to the river canal at South Bay. President Joe Friedheim says, pointing to the map to support his view. "The only action our Chamber of Commerce has taken on the subject is to support the route that was long ago settled upon. What we are interested in now is in getting the construction started under the appropriation the State Road Department made."

Fear Good Bean Sale Would Be Bad Report

"Don't say much about that car load of $8 beans—if you play the story up you'll have this country overrun again with salesmen and canvassers and owners of stocks of goods they can't sell anywhere else and job hunters who are broke."

This was the advice given to the reporter at Pahokee and Belle Glade by farmers and merchants and referred to Kruse Brothers sale of a car of beans at $3,331.90. Statements that cars of vegetables have been shipped when they haven't been shipped and that sales have been made at prices that the goods didn't sell at, and that crops are good when they are bad—that is a policy that is not approved by public sentiment.

Facts, just facts, and comment that is intelligent is preferred to uniformity and mendacity. The chaps that flood the country with men who are unable to contribute to solid growth.

20 CARS TOMATOES IN 26-CAR TOTAL

Total car loads of vegetables from the stations of the Florida East Coast railroad in the Lake Okeechobee region in the week ending this morning was 26, of which Belle Glade forwarded 16 cars, South Bay, Canal Point 5 and Pelican Lake 2 cars.

There were 20 cars of tomatoes, of which 11 were from Belle Glade, 3 from South Bay, 4 from Canal Point and 2 from Pelican Lake. The other cars were 1 of cabbage and 2 of beans and 2 mixed from Belle Glade and 1 of mixed vegetables from Canal Point.

Beans are selling at from $5 to $6 a hamper. The f. o. b. price of tomatoes ranged from $1.50 to $2.00. Bean leaf hoppers are less prevalent and crops are doing fairly well considering the lack of moisture.

SUGAR PRODUCTION IN 1931-32 SEASON WAS 145,135 BAGS

Detailed Report on Operation of United States Sugar Corporation

CLEWISTON MILLED 295,135 TONS CANE

Larger Acreage Available For Cane Production In Coming Season

TAMPA, April 14.—A report made by the United States Sugar Corporation shows the extent of operations in the Clewiston district. The plant at Clewiston consumed 1,838,421 gallons and the sugar production 145,135 bags. The sugar yield was encouraging, the report states, because it registered 8.116 per cent, compared with 7.67 last year.

During March, the company disposed of 2,687,000 pounds of refined sugar. A total of 13,504 acres will be available for the harvest of 1932-33, which requires with 13,165 acres for the past season.

All equipment is being inspected, for repairs and changes to meet the demands of the next season. Surveying and mapping of the company's properties progress with a working crew. One of the difficulties encountered is the much less cane, which requires 10 tractors compared with working in various sections of property to fight the cane beetle.

TEDDER M. A. T. Greer, who received 55 and 100 per cent of the vote.

For councilmen the vote was: G. I. Evans, 116, C. E. Riedel, 109, D. T. Walters, 83, M. C. Eggleston, 78, these four being elected. The vote on other candidates was: H. A. Douglas, 60, L. A. Meyer, 50, there were 50 spoiled ballots.

The new officials were sworn in at a meeting of the council Wednesday night. Organization of the city government for the new term is expected to be made at a meeting of the mayor and council next Tuesday night.

So Voters May Know. For the benefit of voters, Circuit Clerk Fred E. Penzo has compiled the following information about the June 7 primary.

Last day to register for primary, April 30.
Last day for candidates to qualify, May 13.
Last day for payment of poll tax, May 21.

Second primary (run-off election) will be held on the fourth Tuesday after the first Monday in June, which will be June 18.

INVESTIGATES REPORT. Congressman Robert Bryan Owen has formed Clifford Savage, chairman of the West Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee, that an investigation of reports that large supplies of tomatoes are being shipped into the market from Mexico.

The action of the district's representative in congress and the senate is the result of reports that more than 900 straight carloads of tomatoes have been sent from the border from Mexico, of which the federal government's internal revenue department has no record, he stated.

How They Stand

"Better be safe than sorry. Give that subscription to your candidate today! There are but a few working days left in the Big Vote! Make your time count—your vote a little harder."

"The gutter gives an alibi. The weak-kneed ones get blue. The fighter goes down fighting. But the thoroughbred comes thru."

For convenience, candidates will always be listed alphabetically, and the following is of the rotation in which they stand. The position of each worker indicated by the votes listed.

BAKER, Mrs. Alf, Canal Point 495,600
BASTON, Mrs. G. G., South Bay 495,600

A special feature of each evening will be the song service, don't miss this. Special music being arranged for every service. The cottage prayer meetings held during the past two weeks were a great success and many people were helped. Continue your prayers for the success of the revival services.

PROGRAM FOR WEEK AT PRINCE THEATRE

Young Donovan's Kid Brings
Rex Beach's Greatest Characters To The Screen

A New York East side Robin Hood, star, who as lightly as he is kissed. A parish priest who packed a Bible in his left hand, a wall-plop in his right. A beautiful young girl of gentle breeding, in love with a notorious gunman. A seven-year old boy steeped in the wickedness of adult gang life. A narcotic fiend with a mad desire to teach others to use his perilsous drug. These are only a few of the amazing characters with Rex Beach's classic novel, "Big Brother," is peopled, the Radio picture version of which is titled "Young Donovan's Kid," is showing Saturday.

In the respect of the role of gang leader is Richard Dix, whose brilliant performance in "Cimarron" has won him among the greatest stars of all screen history. He again covers himself with screen glory in a part, radically different from any he has ever played.

Jackie Cooper, seven-year old boy who hooped to stardom overnight in the title role of "Skippy," plays the incorrigible Midge Murray. His performance is said to be one of the most outstanding ever contributed to the screen by a child actor.

Held as one of the outstanding talking pictures of the year and as one of the ten best, "The sin of Madelon Claude" will be shown on the screen Sunday and Monday. The story is one of tremendous emotional sweep, depicting the melodramatic career of a woman who sinks to the lowest depths for the sake of her child.

The central role of Madelon, the French girl who is deserted by her lover and subsequently becomes the victim of a series of amazing circumstances, is played by Helen Hayes, the New York stage star, who makes her first appearance on the screen in this production. This role gives Miss Hayes every opportunity for display of her remarkable talents as an actress, for she is seen first as an attractive young girl, and then as the progress of the story continues over a period of years, appears as an old, disillusioned and haggard woman. Prudent roles are played by Lewis Stone, as the Count, who raises the status of Madelon from that of a waif to mistress of a luxurious home, only to result in her being sent to prison later; and by Neil Hamilton, as an American artist with whom Madelon elopes but with whom she has only a short-lived happiness. Most of the womanly material is in the hands of Cliff Edwards and Marie Prevost as the two married couples who enjoy fighting almost as much as loving.

Starring the lovely Ann Harding, as the beautiful, aristocratic girl. This play is light in the land regions of Indo-China, right in the heart of the jungle, six hundred miles from the nearest civilized settlement.

Two white people alone in a native colony, struggle along, succumbing to the evil beauty or insidious lure of the tropics, but being too hot for the air, its wild tangles of savage color—upheld only by their obedience to military discipline—try to maintain the prestige of the white race.

As the cultured Parisienne who gives up everything she has been taught to appreciate that she may follow her soldier lover into the exile of a soldier, Ann Harding is superb. Metyou Douglas gives a performance that easily rates him as one of the finest of the newer screen players. Adolph Menjou surpasses even his own high standards of fine acting. A notable bit of work is contributed by Clarence Muse, negro singer, and actor, who employs both talents in the course of "Frestige."

Bringing with it a new angle to the problem of whether a wife should divorce or forgive an unfaithful husband, "Good Night, Beulah," opens its engagement Thursday. In this picture, which is said to combine a unique form of matrimonial comedy, the heroine, a bride of a year, discovers that her husband has taken another woman with him to Europe. When her mother suggests a lawyer and the first trial to Reno, she says: "She is young, attractive and well-to-do; why should he leave her for a gold digger?" Defeated by the reason, she assumes a new name and a new role—that of a "gold digger." Seeking friends among the women of this new world, and endeavoring to find out their philosophy and so create her search and results form the basis of a fascinating picture.

Linda Watkins, delectable blonde who played the title role in "Sally, Sister," has the feminine lead with John Boles opposite her as the millionaire she meets in her wanderings. Allan Dinehart enacts the faithless husband and Greta Nissen his immorality. Heida Hooper as Miss Watkins' mother and Miss Gombel as a awfully good digger completes the list of featured players.

METHODIST REVIVAL

Dr. H. F. Tolle of Lake Wales will be at the Pahokee Methodist church from April 17 to April 24 to conduct a series of revival services. The public is invited to attend all of these services.

Dr. Tolle was with us here in Pahokee last year and a full house heard his inspiring message at each service. It is expected that we shall have packed houses this week. Be on time and be sure of a good seat.

Dr. Tolle understands young people and will have a message that will be helpful to the youth of our community in meeting everyday problems. Because of his love for people and his desire to serve his Saviour, Dr. Tolle will have a sympathetic message for all of us.

BASS SEEKS RELECTION

Elvin A. Bass of Pahokee has filed as a candidate for reelection as a representative from Palm Beach county in the legislature, the Palm Beach Post reported last week. Mr. Bass is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bass of Pahokee. He practiced law in West Palm Beach after his graduation from law school and came to Pahokee about three years ago, and is town attorney. H. K. Lewis of West Palm Beach is the other representative.

DRUG STORE CHANGE

Ralph Stallons has retired from the Pahokee drug store, his interest having been taken by his wife's brothers, Golden Bros. of Orlando and Thomamville. Mr. Reagan and Mr. Donaldson, relatives of Mrs. Stallons, are now employed in the store and a prescription clerk is to be employed.

Man and boy who thrilled the world—the one in "Cimarron," the other as "Skippy"—now bonded together in one great human drama—"Young Donovan's Kid," Prince Theatre, Saturday only.

HUSKEY ESTATE SUIT

Sitting as a special master, R. K. Lewis, West Palm Beach, attorney, Friday heard testimony in a friendly suit brought by Mrs. Sarah Huskey of Pahokee against the administrators of her late husband's estate, to have the title of a large tract of recently purchased land changed into a trust holding in her name.

The bill of complaint states that Mrs. Huskey and Alfred J. Huskey, Jr., her son and daughter, and administrators of the estate, bought a piece of land with her funds and through a mistake, the deed and bill of sale was not properly drawn.

The litigation is over the estate of the late Alfred J. Huskey, prominent Pahokee property holder. Another son, Ernest Huskey, is also involved.
